Teacher is the most important member in our society. Wherein, they are the one who impart knowledge specially to children. Teacher are the one to help to expand the interest of the learners and push them in a right path. Teaching is a tough job but it is where you can give impact into another person life. Because being a teacher is not always about teaching, it's about a lifelong commitment profession and giving opportunities to fulfill someone's dream.

This Field study subject gives opportunity to me to watch and observe the behavior, traits , teaching style and learning style of the learners and teachers in real world classroom setting. During my 3rd day observation with my cooperating teacher Mrs. Manilet Sunshine Pagal, I gained more knowledge to her about the duties and responsibility of teacher must have. I saw her how she gave patience towards her students even though she's physically and mentally tired. She exhibit and uphold dignity, respect and integrity in or outside of her classroom and that's how a Professional Teacher must portray all the time . She also have rapport not only to her learners but also to their parents too. In addition, I notice how my cooperating teacher used think-pair-share and interactive teaching as a teaching strategy during her class. And it is effective for her students because they are actively engaged during discussion and in doing activities. I am also amazed the way my cooperating teacher integrate technology in teaching. Because she use Canva in presenting lesson and all of her students are amazed and I can feel their excitement everytime it will played in monitor. And yet it is appropriate through the learning of students specially we are now in 21st Century wherein technology is in demand. Moreover, I observe how she plan the lesson from objective down to activities. I can say that she is well prepared in Instructional materials and have a mastery of subject matter.

Teaching in public school is like an ocean because sometimes it can be low tide and teacher can have time to be calm and relax. Oftentimes high tide because they are loaded of paperworks. Staying three days at East Central Integrated School gives me birds eye view on what kind of learning environment they have. And I realized that before we enter in this profession we must know our purpose , mission , vision why we chose this career.

Just like what my cooperating teacher said "Teaching is not a job, it is a way of life" and it gives me insight that when we enter teaching field we are not only teaching but we equipped our learners with knowledge and skills along to their chosen path in life.
