During my observation period at Pantal Elementary School, I've encountered a lot of things that inspires me as an education student who's chasing her dreams of becoming a great teacher someday. I learned a lot about classroom management, how to assess the learning of the students, and how to respond in different types of students.

On my first day, February 27, 2023, it's Monday, a flag ceremony was held. During that day I was assigned to the kindergarten that's being cared for by Ma'am Rose F. Ferrer. As I entered their classroom, I could feel the great ambience of how good it is as a learning environment for the children who's studying there. For me, it's because the classroom is good and the teacher won't leave any one of their students behind. Because as much as possible, a teacher does cater their needs in order for each of her students to continue as they wonder through various lessons. In teaching the students teacher uses a lot of visual aids, I can say that this is effective because it makes the student engage and to actively participate. When it comes in assessing the learning of the students, students used pencil and paper as a writing material, for me it's one of the best practices to improve their writing skills. Second day, February 28, 2023, during this day I was indeed overwhelmed by things that happened that I hadn't done during my first day. During morning I'm with the kindergarten students of teacher Rhona Aguado. I was impressed with the performance of the students were they're already familiar with the alphabets and its sound. Same with the students of teacher Rose Ferrer on my first day. Also, when it comes in assessing their learnings, they used pencil and paper. They also had a coloring activity in which they use crayons to showcase their creativity. As afternoon period came, I'm with teacher Catalina R. Estrada of Grade 1 – Pinya. By this time, I'm observing the class while the teacher is using integrated technology as a way in effective teaching and learning process. Their assessment is convenient to the student, for teacher Catalina provided each of her students their hard copy of their assessment for them to write their answers directly at the paper without being worried of copying the entire questions in their papers. Here comes the last day of my observation, March 01, 2023. I'm back with teacher Rose's class of kindergarten. Teacher Rose used visual aids just like on my first day, visual aids is very efficient to let the student picture the actual lesson. Just like on what they did when they had a story telling on that day as well. The story telling went fine as the student's attentions were being caught by the great story telling skills of teacher Rose. Then the art time came, students got to bring out their coloring materials to do their given activity of what teacher Rose instructed them to do. Moreover, with their relationship with their fellow teacher's I can see how comfortable they are when interacting with each other and seeing them smile as they interact adds on my overall thoughts on how productive will be my working environment when I become like them someday. I come to witness how teachers interact with the students' parents as they come to school and greet each other with a smile and always shows respect towards everyone. The same interactions go to their fellow teachers, which I also admire.
