

FIELD STUDY 6

Deployment Documentation

DAY 1 (February 28, 2023)

The teacher has a hundred percent mastery with the content or lesson she is teaching.

The teacher is hands-on. She guides her students all throughout the activity to ensure that they are doing the activity correctly.

The whole class was very close with each other. We can see that they build a good rapport with each other, but still respect each other.

DAY 2 (March 1, 2023)

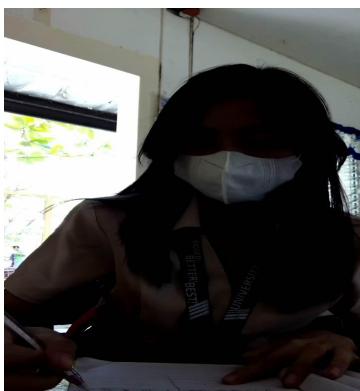

This student is having a hard time reading English words or phrases. My cooperating teacher asked me to teach and guide her reading in english.

This student is having difficulty in reading Pangasinan (Mother Tongue). My cooperating teacher asked me to teach and guide her. The good thing is that they have so many short stories and/or phrases that are written in Pangasinan.

So I was able to teach her.

Aside from observing, I also helped my cooperating teacher in checking the students' assignments, activity sheets, and others.

DAY 3 (March 2, 2023)

The school principal required or asked us to make an instructional material wherein the cooperating teacher can use in her class. As I observed, there are still a number of students that are having a hard time reading in English, so I decided to make them a big book which contains 5 different short stories written in english.

My cooperating teacher was very happy when she saw the big book I made. I can also see in the students' eyes the excitement to read the stories I made for them. Hope they read and learn from it.

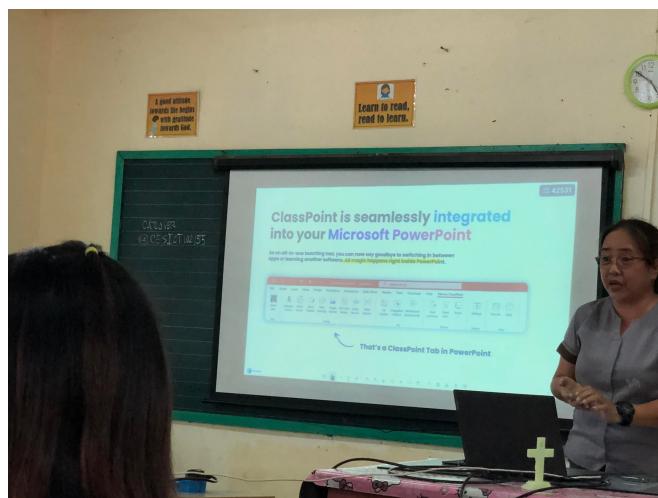

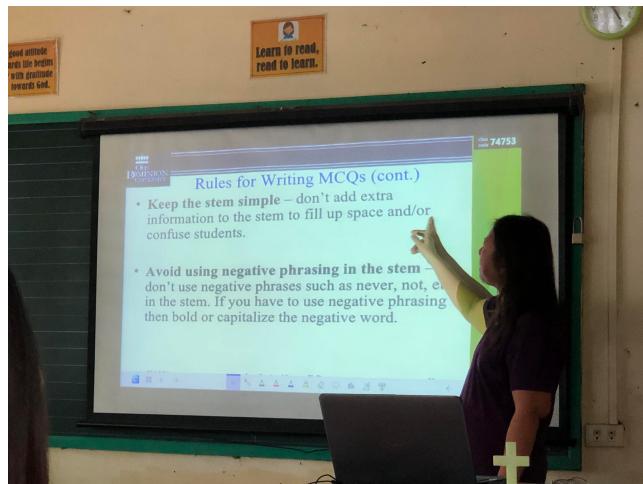

These students were very willing and eager to learn. I'm happy and glad to be not just their observer, but also their teacher for 3 days. It's really tiring but worth it seeing them learn and enjoy learning.

I've noticed that most of them always lose their pencils, so I decided to give them a pencil as a token of appreciation. My heart is very happy hearing them saying "thank you teacher Jirah". It's truly the thought that counts.

LAC SESSION

Before we left our cooperating school, they made a simple program and/or LAC Session for us. Wherein they shared some important information, knowledge, and skills that we can or will surely bring with us and apply in our journey as future educators and when we are already in the field of teaching. We learned so much in this LAC Session.

Mrs. Geraldine Rose B. Taron, Master Teacher II discussed how and when to properly use Bloom's Taxonomy, creating Table of Specifications, and MCQ.

Ma'am Mariebil Q. Balolong, Master Teacher I shared with us about Using ICT Integration in Teaching. Specifically the Class Point App.

Mrs. Rochelle T. Quiros, Teacher III shared to us about the different teaching strategies that we could use in the field.

Certificate of Recognition and Participation given by our cooperating school's principal.
